

Values in Nursing and Professional Ethics

Prepared by
Dr. Bardes Shaban

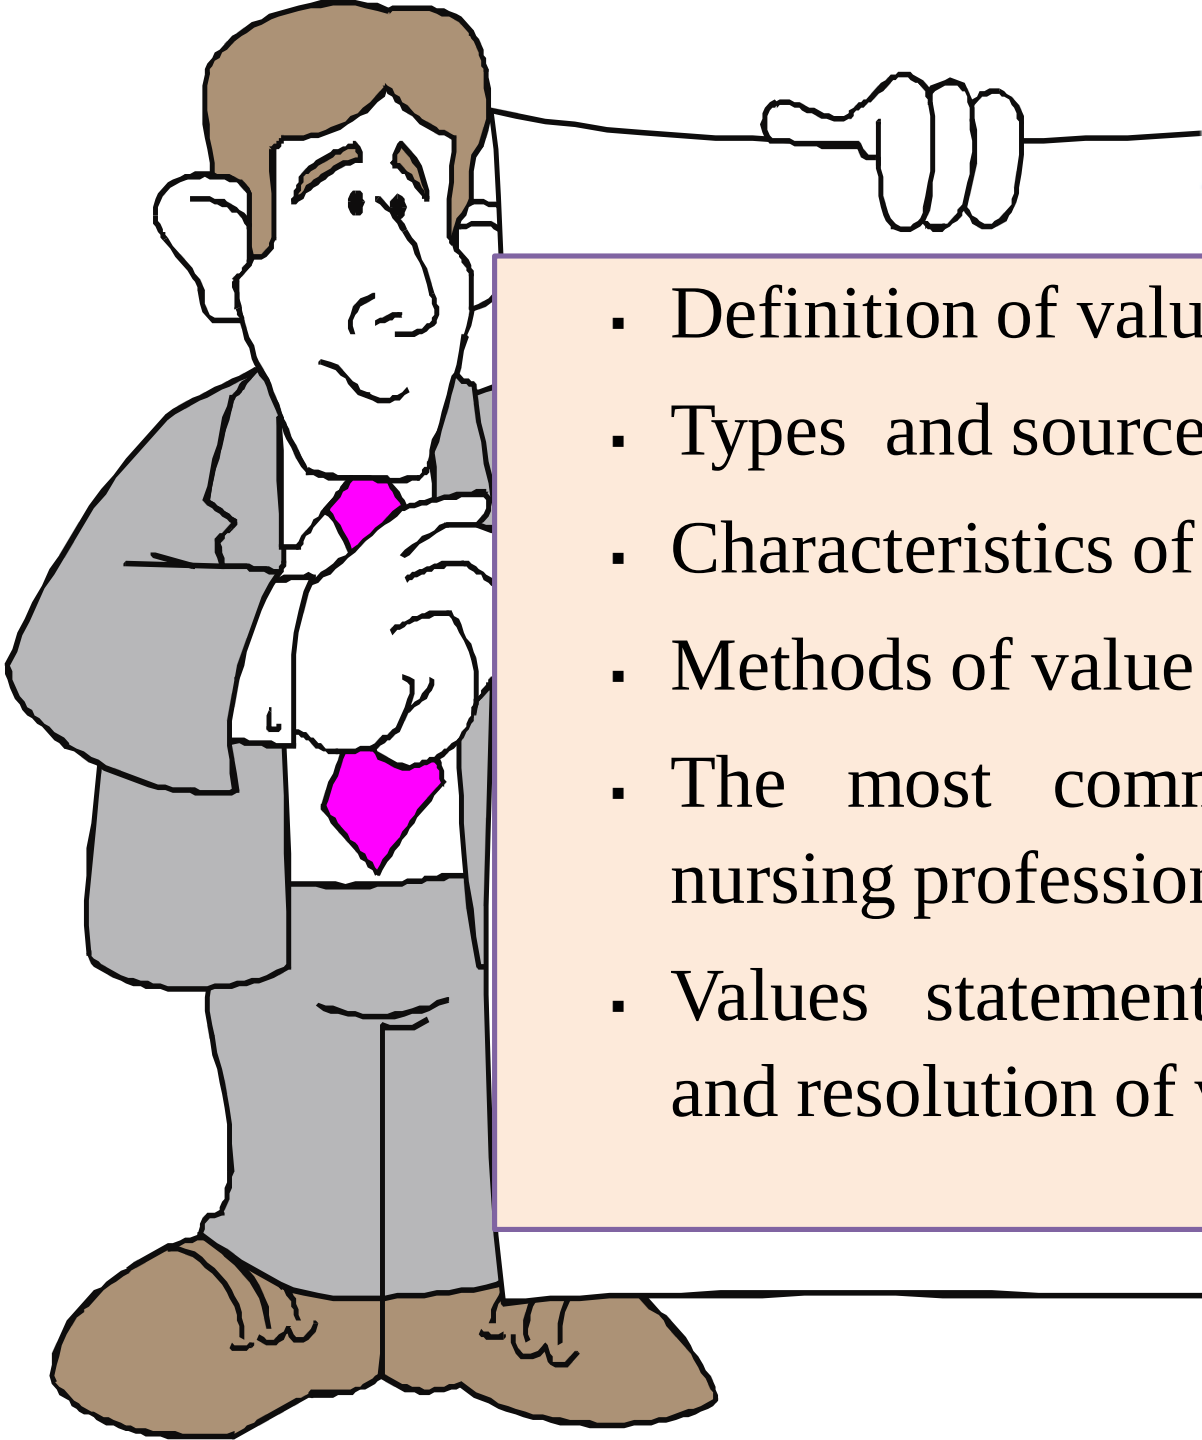

الحديث الجانبي يشتت الانتباه

من فضلك اغلق الهاتف

A cartoon illustration of a man with brown hair, wearing a grey suit, white shirt, and a bright pink tie. He is standing on the left side of the slide, pointing his right index finger towards the title 'Outline'.

Outline

- Definition of values.
- Types and sources of value.
- Characteristics of values.
- Methods of value transmissions.
- The most common values in the nursing profession.
- Values statements, values Conflicts and resolution of values conflicts.

Definitions of Values:

- ✓ Concepts or ideas that give meaning to one's life.
- ✓ Personal aspects that provide a framework for one's decisions and actions.

Types of Values

Personal

Professional

Personal values

People need personal values to have sense of individuality and to feel accepted.

Personal values develop from:

- a. Individual social traditions.
- b. Cultural, ethnic religious norms.

Examples:

Self-worth, Sense of humor, Honesty, Fairness, Love, Responsibility.

Professional Values

They are acquired during socialization within the practice of nursing profession from:

- 1. Code of ethics.
- 2. Nursing experience.
- 3. Teachers.
- 4. Peers.

- People need social values to feel accepted, and they need personal values to produce a sense of individuality.

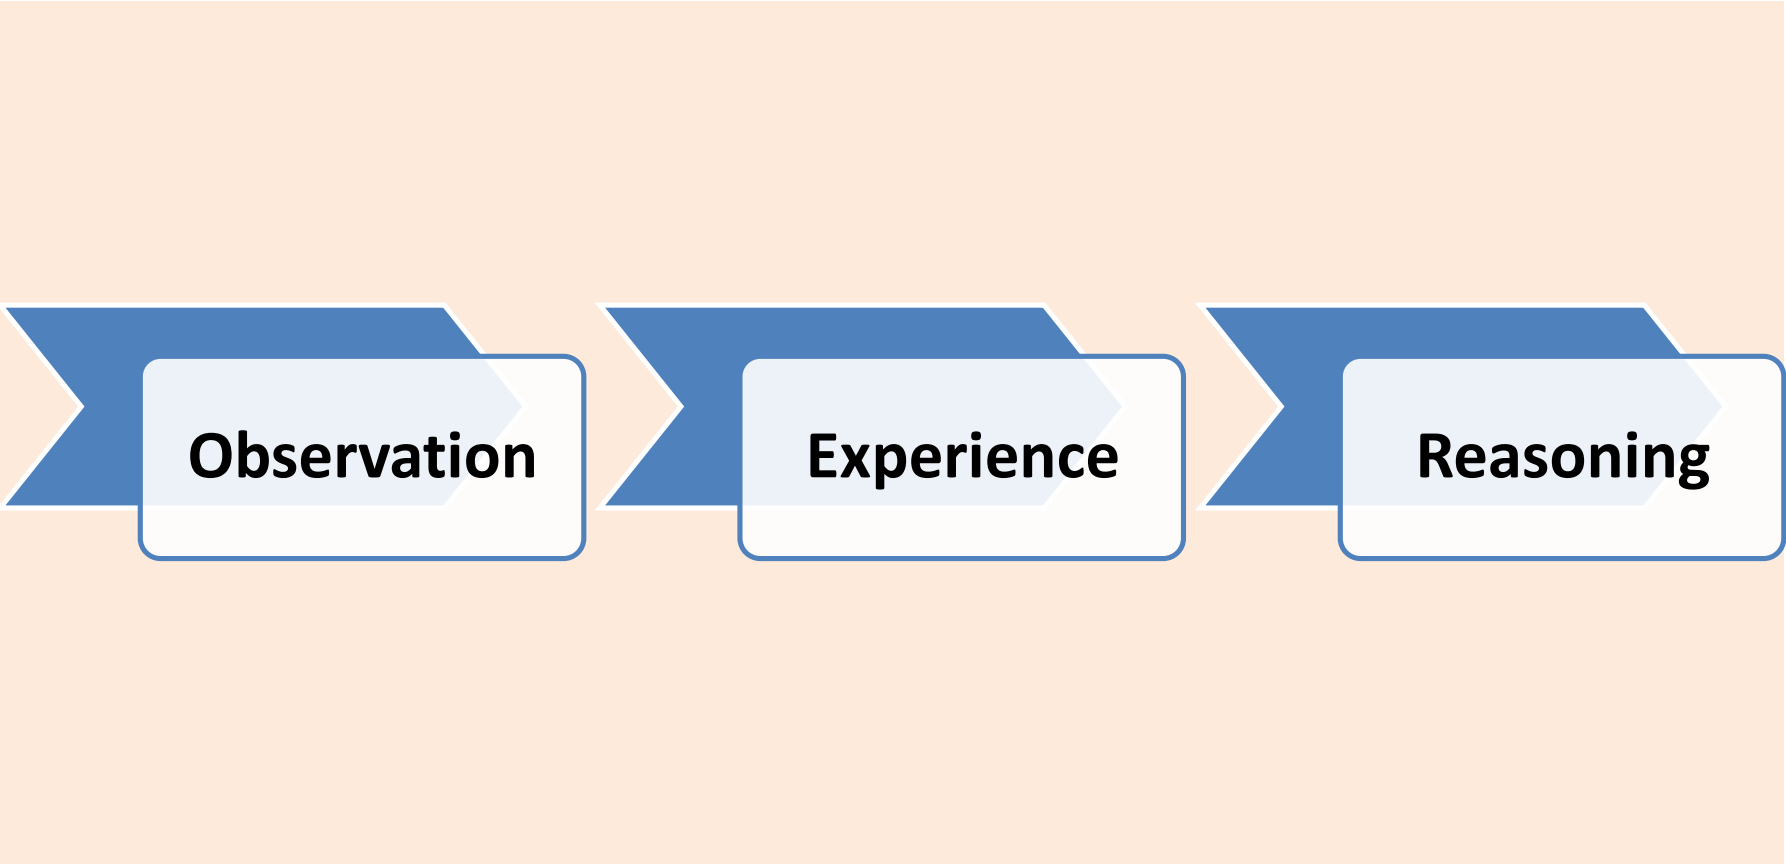

Professional values often reflect and expand on personal values.

Sources of Value

Values are rooted since human exist; the structure of human nature comes from both genetically & culturally.

Values are socializing influences; they come from community, peer culture, role models and experiences that challenge a way of thinking

Formation of Value

Observation

Experience

Reasoning

Characteristics of Values

- Freely chosen.
- Learned through observation and experience.
- Influenced by a person's socio-cultural environment, tradition, religion, as well as by family and peer group.

Methods of Value Transmissions

- ❑ Modeling/ Acting.
- ❑ Reward and Punishment.
- ❑ Moralizing/ Standard of right and wrong

The most Common Values in the Nursing Profession

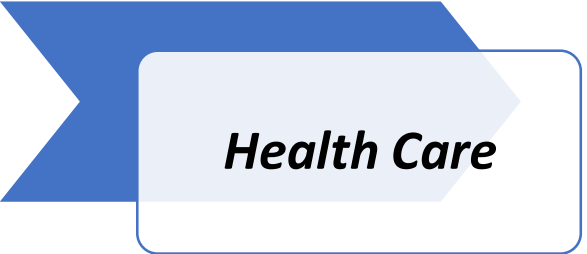

Health Promotion

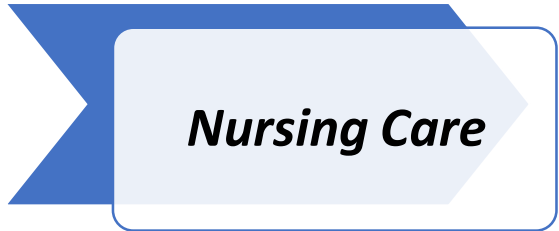

Health

Health Education

Health Care

Nursing Care

HealthCommunication

Value of Health:

- It is a state of complete mental, physical & social well-being & not merely the absence of disease or infirmity.

Value of Health Care:

- Health care is constantly changing.
- The patients are free to choose which treatment to have, where and when. Therefore, the patients should be well informed about available choices.
- If the patients are in a position mentally and emotionally to make these choices.

Value of Health Promotion:

- Nursing goals is to help clients establish health protection or health promoting behaviors, by modifying unhealthy habits to achieve optimal levels of wellness.

Value of Nursing:

- Values of nursing is changes according to changes of society' values

Value of Caring:

- It is the response to someone or something who or which matters.
- It is according to the human point of view, and characterized by human feelings and behaviors.

Value of Communication:

- Be attentive, intelligent, reasonable, responsible, and committed.

Values Statements

Examples

- Faith in God
- Respecting others
- Being respected by others
- Being open and receptive to others
- Experiencing true friendship
- Loving parents

Values Conflicts

Occurs when we must choose between two things, both of which are important to us.

Resolution of Values Conflicts

- Be constructive (rather than destructive) in the methods you choose to work toward resolving the differences.
- Listen carefully without interruptions.
- Seek clarification using gentle questioning.
- Respect cultural differences.

- Be attentive to body language
- Explain the context of your point of view and try to picture the other person's expected of what you are saying
- Clarifying or explaining process that aim at defining the relevant issue, attitudes and beliefs.
- Answering questions.
- Coming to decision or a determination

Summary

Choose the correct answer

Professional values develop from individual social tradition :

A. True

B. False

In resolution of values conflicts, should be :

A. Constructive

B. Destructive

- List 3 characteristics of values

- Freely chosen.

- Learned through observation and experience.

- Influenced by a person's socio-cultural environment, tradition, religion, as well as by family and peer group.

thank you