

Guidelines of Ethical and Professional Conduct For Nursing Students

Prepared by
Dr. Bardes Shaban

OUTLINES

- The importance of the guidelines.
- The three categories of the guidelines.
 1. Nursing student and the client
 2. Nursing student and other health professionals
 3. Nursing student and the profession.
- Examples for the three categories of the guidelines.

Introduction

- Ethical conduct for nursing students refers to the dealing with consistent practice of professional behaviors

The importance of the guidelines

The guidelines help nursing student to:

- ▶ Provide ethical nursing care.
- ▶ Meet the Faculty's expectations regarding ethical & professional conduct.
- ▶ Motivate to think & resolve ethical and professional situations.

The guidelines are divided into three categories

- ▶ 1. Nursing student and the client
- ▶ 2. Nursing student and other health professional
- ▶ 3. Nursing student and the profession

1- The nursing student and clients

Respect client's rights, values, culture and religion, recognizing that the client is an autonomous person with individual needs and choices.

1. Establish a therapeutic, professional and caring relationship with clients based on trust.
2. Communicate with clients and families in a professional manner.
3. Provide safe, competent care to client
4. Keep client information confidential; it should not be discussed in public areas.

4- The nursing student should recognize that attendance at clinical placements is compulsory.

5- Inform the instructor if he/she is unable to attend the clinical placement due to illness or other circumstances.

6- When a nursing student does not wish to provide care to a client for any reason (ethical or religious), discuss this with the instructor.

7- The nursing student must not be under the influence of substances as alcohol or drugs during class or at the clinical area.

Advocacy

A responsibility of nursing students is to advocate for the rights of all clients. This requires the nursing student to understand the client's rights and responsibilities..

ADVOCACY

2- The nursing student and other health care professionals

- The nursing student is a member of the client's health team. Therefore, should accept responsibility to work co-operatively with peers, instructor and other health care professionals to provide competent and safe client care

3- The Nursing Student and the Profession:

Should

- Show interest in patient's saying.
- Speak clearly, slowly, pleasant way.
- Use normal words.
- Respect pt's moods.

Shouldn't

- Let the patient think you are too busy to listen.
- Refuse to do something you should do.
- Use bad words.
- Use loud voice, unclear when speaking with patient.
- Use bad, gestures or unclear movements.

Thank you