

د. بردیس شعبان الشیخ

Professional ethics in nursing

Code :
NUR 1115

First grade , first semester

One credit hour theory/ week

Total grade
50

```
graph TD; A["Total grade
50"] --> B["15
• Attendance
• Activity
• Quizzes
• Midterm"]; A --> C["35
• Final written Exam"];
```

15

- Attendance
- Activity
- Quizzes
- Midterm

35

- Final written Exam

Professional ethics in nursing involves a set of principles and values that guide nurses in providing patient care, emphasizing the patient's well-being, and dignity.

Accept patient as he is

- Develop trust relation between patient and nurse
- Appreciate patient's and human rights
- Improve quality of care
- Identify the responsibilities of nurse toward patient
- Develop critical thinking and decision-making skills

- Principles include respect, avoiding harm, fairness, confidentiality, and commitments

- By understanding ethics, nurse can provide better care, make right decision, build trust with patient

Thank You

