

Questions about principles of Ethics in Nursing

- 1- The principle of autonomy refers to:
 - a) Doing no harm
 - b) Respecting an individual's right to make their own decisions
 - c) Acting in the best interest of others
 - d) Fair distribution of resources

- 2- What does the principle of non-maleficence mean?
 - a) Promoting good
 - b) Avoiding harm
 - c) Ensuring fairness
 - d) Respecting privacy

- 3- Confidentiality means:
 - a) Sharing information openly
 - b) Keeping information private unless permission is given
 - c) Making decisions for others
 - d) Ensuring fairness in treatment

- 4- Which ethical principle is mainly concerned with fairness and equality?
 - a) Beneficence
 - b) Justice
 - c) Autonomy
 - d) Confidentiality

- 5- Which principle deals with fairness and equality in the distribution of resources?
 - a) Autonomy
 - b) Justice
 - c) Beneficence
 - d) Confidentiality

- 6- What does confidentiality mean in ethical practice?
 - a) Sharing all information freely

- b) Protecting private information from unauthorized access
- c) Ignoring patient requests
- d) Making decisions without consulting others

7- How does the principle of autonomy affect informed consent?

- a) Patients must be forced to follow medical advice
- b) Patients have the right to understand and decide about their treatment
- c) Consent is not necessary
- d) Doctors make decisions without explaining options

8- Respecting a patient's confidentiality is important because:

- a) It improves trust between patient and professional
- b) It prevents any legal consequences
- c) It is optional depending on the situation
- d) It is only relevant in hospitals

Which of the following is NOT a core ethical principle?

- a) Autonomy
- b) Honesty
- c) Beneficence
- d) Justice

10- In nursing ethics, the principle of autonomy means:

- a) Nurses make decisions for patients without consulting them
- b) Patients have the right to make their own healthcare decisions
- c) Nurses decide the best treatment without patient input
- d) Patients must follow nurse instructions blindly

11- Which principle obliges nurses to avoid causing harm to patients?

- a) Justice
- b) Beneficence
- c) Non-maleficence
- d) Confidentiality

Maintaining patient confidentiality means:

- a) Sharing patient information with colleagues only
- b) Never discussing patient information outside the healthcare team
- c) Keeping patient information private unless consent is given or legally required
- d) Posting patient information on social media for awareness

12- Which ethical principle requires nurses to act in the best interest of the patient?

- a) Autonomy
- b) Beneficence
- c) Justice
- d) Fidelity

13- Justice in nursing ethics primarily refers to:

- a) Treating patients with kindness
- b) Providing equal and fair care to all patients
- c) Giving preference to certain patients
- d) Avoiding difficult patients

14- What should a nurse do if a patient refuses treatment?

- a) Respect the patient's decision and inform them of the consequences
- b) Force the patient to accept treatment
- c) Ignore the refusal and continue treatment
- d) Inform the family without the patient's consent

15- What is the nurse's ethical responsibility when they notice a colleague providing unsafe care?

- a) Ignore it to avoid conflict
- b) Report the issue to appropriate authorities or supervisors
- c) Cover up the mistake to protect the colleague
- d) Wait until the situation worsens

16- Fidelity in nursing ethics means:

- a) Keeping promises and being faithful to professional commitments
- b) Sharing all patient information openly
- c) Prioritizing family wishes over patient's
- d) Avoiding responsibility for mistakes

17- Informed consent in nursing means:

- a) Explaining treatment options clearly and allowing patients to choose
- b) Making decisions without informing the patient
- c) Only obtaining consent for surgeries
- d) Assuming consent unless the patient objects

18- When dealing with a patient from a different cultural background, nurses should:

- a) Ignore cultural differences to treat everyone equally
- b) Respect and incorporate the patient's cultural values into care
- c) Force the patient to follow hospital rules strictly
- d) Avoid discussing cultural preferences

19- A nurse accidentally gives the wrong medication to a patient. What is the most ethical response?

- a) Keep it secret and monitor the patient
- b) Tell the patient only if they ask
- c) Report the incident immediately and inform the patient
- d) Blame another staff member

20- A terminally ill patient requests not to be resuscitated. What ethical principle supports this request?

- a) Non-maleficence
- b) Justice
- c) Autonomy
- d) Beneficence

21- When notice a senior nurse being verbally abusive to a confused elderly patient. What should you do?

- a) Do nothing—it's not your responsibility
- b) Join in to avoid conflict
- c) Report the behavior to your supervisor or ethics committee
- d) Talk to the nurse in private but take no further action

22- A nurse is assigned more patients than is safely manageable. What is the ethical obligation?

- a) Accept the assignment to avoid conflict
- b) Refuse to work and leave the unit
- c) Notify the supervisor and advocate for safe staffing
- d) Do the best possible and ignore any issues

23- A nurse shares a patient's diagnosis with a friend out of curiosity. This violates which ethical principle?

- a) Autonomy
- b) Fidelity
- c) Confidentiality
- d) Justice

24- A nurse provides extra attention to a patient they personally like, and less to others. Which ethical principle is being violated?

- a) Autonomy
- b) Justice
- c) Beneficence
- d) Non-maleficence

25- A patient requests to see their medical records. What should the nurse do?

- a) Deny access for privacy reasons
- b) Refer the patient to the appropriate department and support access
- c) Tell the patient they won't understand it
- d) Allow access only with doctor's permission

26- During a busy shift, a nurse forgets to administer pain medication on time. What is the ethical response?

- a) Lie and say it was given
- b) Wait until the patient complains
- c) Document the mistake and inform the patient
- d) ignore it to avoid getting in trouble