

Leadership for effective Risk Management & Quality Improvement

By

Dr/ Nehal Mahmoud

Definition of leadership

- Leadership is the ability of an individual or a group of individuals to influence and guide followers or other members of an organization.
- Leadership is the art of motivating a group of people to act toward achieving a common goal.

Characteristics of effective leader

- 1. Effective Communicators

- Leaders are excellent communicators, able to explain problems and solutions clearly and concisely. Leaders know when to talk and when to listen. In addition, leaders can communicate on different levels: one-on-one, via phone, email, etc.

- 2. Accountable and Responsible

- Leaders hold themselves accountable and take responsibility for any mistakes. Leaders support and encourage individuality while abiding by organizational structure, rules, and policies that need to be followed.

- 3. Long-term Thinkers

- Leaders are visionaries. This is evidenced by the leadership trait of being able to plan through concrete and quantifiable goals. They understand the need for continuous change and are open to trying new approaches to solve problems or improve processes.

- 4. Self-motivated

- Leaders are self-motivated and can keep going and attain goals despite setbacks. In addition, good leaders try their best to exceed, not just meet, expectations.

- 5. Confident

- Virtually all good leaders share the leadership trait of confidence. They can make tough decisions and lead with authority. By being confident, leaders can reassure and inspire others, establish open communications, and encourage teamwork.

6. People-oriented

Leaders are typically people-oriented and team players. They're able to foster a team culture, involve others in decision-making, and show concern for each team member. By being people-oriented, leaders can energize and motivate others. By making each individual feel important and vital to the team's success, they secure the best efforts from each member of the team.

7. Emotionally Stable

Leaders exercise good control and regulation over their own behavior and able to tolerate frustration and stress. Leaders can cope with changes in an environment without having an intense emotional reaction.

Differences between Leader and Manager

Basis	Manager	Leader
Origin	A person becomes a manager by virtue of his position .	A person becomes a leader based on his personal qualities .
Formal Rights	Manager has got formal rights in an organization because of his status.	Rights are not available to a leader.
Followers	The subordinates are the followers of managers.	The group of employees whom the leaders lead his followers .
Functions	A manager performs all functions of management.	Leaders influence people to work willingly for group objectives.
Necessity	A manager is essential to a concern.	A leader is required to create cordial relations between a person working in and for organization.
Stability	It is more stable .	Leadership is temporary .
Mutual Relationship	Not all managers are leaders.	Not all leaders are managers.
Accountability	Manager is accountable for self and subordinates' behavior and performance .	Leaders have no well-defined accountability .
Concern	A manager's concern is organizational goals .	A leader's concern is group goals and member's satisfaction .
Followers	People follow managers by virtue of job description .	People follow them on voluntary basis .
Role continuation	A manager can continue in the office till he performs his duties satisfactorily in congruence with organizational goals .	A leader can maintain his position only through day-to-day wishes of followers.

Leadership role in quality and risk management

Strategic planning: Good leaders use proactive plans rather than reactive plans.
خطط استباقية بدلاً من خطط رد الفعل

Vision and Mission.

Developing, implementing and maintaining risk management plan.
Defining quality and safety goals.

Engage stakeholders:
Involve patients, families, staff, and other stakeholders in quality and safety initiatives.

Establishing and ensuring culture of safety, Just Culture and quality culture.

Establish quality committee.

Developing and selecting the accrediting requirements.

Defining quality and safety goals: Leaders establish clear goals and expectations for quality and safety initiatives.

Allocating resources:
Leaders ensure adequate resources are allocated to support quality and safety initiatives.

Monitoring and evaluating progress:
Leaders track progress, identify areas for improvement, and adjust as needed.

Challenges and Opportunities

Competing priorities: Balance quality and safety initiatives with other competing priorities.

Limited resources: Allocate limited resources effectively to support quality and safety initiatives.

Resistance to change: Overcome resistance to change from staff and other stakeholders.

Sustainability الاستدامة: Ensure quality and safety initiatives are sustainable over time.

Applying Leadership Principles for Patient Safety and Quality improvement

1. Develop a quality and safety strategic plan: Use leadership principles to guide the development of a strategic plan.
 2. Lead quality improvement initiatives قيادة مبادرات تحسين الجودة: Apply leadership principles to guide quality improvement initiatives.
 3. Manage patient safety incidents: Use leadership principles to manage patient safety incidents.
 4. Foster a culture of quality and safety: Encourage a culture that prioritizes quality and safety.
 5. Foster a just culture.
-

 By applying these leadership principles, healthcare leaders can create a culture that prioritizes quality and safety, improves patient outcomes, and reduces harm.